

Automatically transform huge volumes of forms and documents into UA-compliant accessible PDFs

Many countries today mandate that documents such as customer forms, bank statements, bills, invoices, governmental protocols and many others, will be provided to the public in an accessible version, so that people with visual impairment, such as blind individuals, elderly persons, people with Dyslexia, etc., will be able to listen to their content using assistive devices. Failing to do so exposes organisations to sanctions.

In order to enable organizations to fully comply with these accessibility regulations, Consist Systems and Technologies has developed NAGIX—an accessible document system solution which can transform large number of documents into fully accessible PDFs, automatically and efficiently. The solution utilizes a revolutionary, robust and proprietary automatic accessibility technology which enables a visually-impaired individuals to produce for themselves an accessible version of any document, instantly, This ensures compliance with accessibility laws and the Principle of Inclusiveness.
